

ALUMNI PROFILE

Molly Farrell-Savage CMASAS Class of 2017

Molly is a skilled and innovative costume designer, making waves in the world of film, commercial, and media based works. Her journey has been shaped by unique educational experience at CMASAS that has allowed her to blend her passion for costume design with a personalized and flexible approach to learning.

As a costume designer immersed in the dynamic film industry, she appreciates the flexibility that CMASAS provided, allowing her to curate a schedule that accommodates both her professional endeavors and extracurricular passions. This flexibility not only facilitated her pursuit of a career in costume design but also created ample room for personalization in her curriculum.

At CMASAS, she discovered the importance of life skills that extend beyond the traditional academic realm. The curriculum at the online school became a catalyst for her development in time management, self-motivation, and goal-setting. These skills have proven invaluable in her demanding profession, where meeting deadlines and staying motivated are critical.

One remarkable testament to the flexibility afforded by CMASAS is her participation in Project Runway, a significant endeavor that took place during what would traditionally be the school year. The ability to seamlessly integrate her education with such high-profile projects showcases the adaptability and forward-thinking nature of the online school.

What truly sets CMASAS apart for Molly is the genuine care and commitment of the staff toward the success of each student. The school goes beyond conventional education and focuses on fostering a supportive community where educators collaborate with students to ensure they get the most from their educational experience.

Molly's story exemplifies how a flexible, personalized learning environment empowers individuals to thrive in both professional and personal pursuits. As a costume designer, she stands as a testament to the transformative impact of education that nurtures creativity, flexibility, and a genuine commitment to individual success.
